Hotel Profits Fall as Cost Increases Outpace Revenue Hotel News Full Article

Driven by persistent cost inflation and a cooling economic outlook, the U.S. hotel industry is grappling with declining profitability. The CBRE U.S. Hotels State of the Union September edition reports that operating profits contracted by 2.7%, a trend that is being fueled by rising costs that surpassed total revenue growth in the face of below-average GDP growth. This pressure on margins reflects a slowdown in the sector's recovery momentum, an environment projected to continue through 2026.

Key factors fueling this downturn include a soft top-line performance and intense competition. Hotel RevPAR (revenue per available room) has fallen 0.6%, primarily due to a significant 1.0% drop in occupancy. Simultaneously, competition from alternative lodging options is significant with short-term rentals seeing their RevPAR increase by 6.0% year-over-year. Furthermore, a meaningful headwind is created by shifting travel patterns, characterized by a notable 3.1% decline in inbound international travel. Against this backdrop, the luxury chain scale stands out as the primary outperformer, suggesting a highly segmented market resilience.

EA Sports Nears Largest-Ever Buyout, Backed by PIF and Silver Lake Axios Full Article

Video game publisher Electronic Arts (EA) is nearing a deal to be taken private by a consortium of powerful investors, potentially resulting in the largest leveraged buyout (LBO) of all time. The proposed deal, valued in the range of $50-$55 billion, reflects a major consolidation within the tech and entertainment sectors and a significant strategic push by Middle Eastern sovereign wealth funds to diversify their global holdings. The privatization would take the company, known for franchises like Madden NFL and EA Sports FC, off the public market for the first time since 1990.

The investment consortium is spearheaded by private equity firm Silver Lake and the Saudi Public Investment Fund (PIF), a current 10% shareholder in EA. This full acquisition is a key move in the PIF's strategy to expand its massive global video game and e-sports portfolio, aiming to diversify the Saudi economy beyond oil. The group also includes Affinity Partners, which is heavily funded by the PIF. Following the news, EA shares jumped 15%.

Revealed: How Much Money The 2025 Ryder Cup Made...And Where It Goes Golf365 Full Article

The 45th Ryder Cup, golf's premier team competition, was estimated to deliver an economic impact of over $200 million for New York State, according to New York Governor Kathy Hochul. When the event was last held in the U.S.—in Wisconsin in 2021—PGA of America said it helped generated $192 million in total revenue. Ticket revenue alone was expected to raise $125 million, with tickets priced as high as $750, and the Long Island Rail Road reportedly earned $20 million in additional revenue during the 2025 Cup.

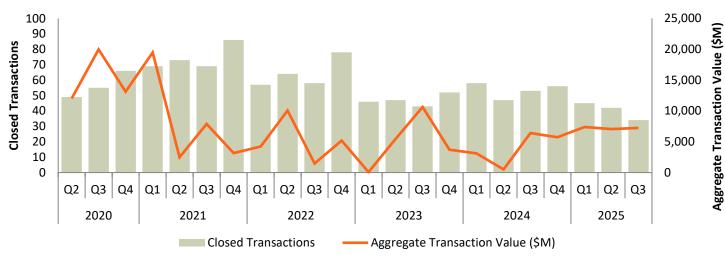

Sector Update: Leisure, Enthusiast, and Recreation (LER)

The core of the Leisure, Enthusiast, and Recreation sector continues to show that consumers are prioritizing experiences over material goods as we continue through Q3 2025. This sector, which includes everything from travel and live events to gear and apparel, continued to show a significant division in performance. Long-term consumer trends, particularly among Millennials and Gen Z, sustained strong demand for localized, in-person activities, providing resilience for the experience-based LER companies. This advantage was heightened by geopolitical factors, as the physical production of goods in low-cost countries like China and Vietnam suffered a severe setback due to rising U.S. tariffs.

The most dramatic shift in Q3 occurred on the financial side. Where Q2 2025 saw product-based multiples increase slightly, the third quarter brought sharp reversal: product-based multiples declined significantly as investors reset valuation expectations due to severe profit warnings and mounting tariff costs for major players. Conversely, experience-based multiples demonstrated stability and growth potential, supported by evidence of strong operational demand, job growth in the hospitality sector, and successful, high-revenue generating events. This confirms the market's belief that the future of the LER sector lies in high-margin experience assets that demonstrate consistent earnings resilience against macro and geopolitical volatility.

35 Years, 350 Deals,

The highest level of expertise and hard work is what accomplishment requires.

It's what you deserve and what we do.

- We sweat the small stuff.
- Take a 3:00am call.
- Say yes.
- Say no.
- Dig deeper when things get tough.
- Celebrate with you when your efforts pay off and you can reflect on it all and say, "It's really remarkable what we've accomplished here."

Then and only then, will we know that we've accomplished something meaningful, too.

Notable Mirus consumer transactions

The MAVA Group

has acquired

The MAVA Group, a newly formed entity, is a manufacturer of accounting and bookkeeping products, therapeutic compression wraps for people and pets, and support gloves for work or sports. The Dome Companies, founded in 1947, manufactures therapeutic compression wraps for people and pets under its "Healit" brand, as well as support gloves for work or sports. Through the acquisition, the MAVA Group intends to leverage the combined strengths of both companies to drive innovation and expand market presence, positioning itself as a leader in the health, fitness, and specialty printing industries.

Valley Fibers Corporation, dba WEBS America's Yarn Store and yarn.com, has been acquired by LoveCrafts Group Limited. This acquisition brought together two leading companies in the market of yarns, weaving, and spinning supplies. It also allowed for the UK-based LoveCrafts to further expand into the North American crafting- focused e-commerce business. Following the transaction, LoveCrafts planned to keep the Valley Fibers retail store, product development, and marketing staff in Northampton, MA and its shipping operations in Easthampton, MA.

Mirus advised Berroco, Inc. in its sale to Premier Needle Arts (PNA), a Blue Point Capital Partners portfolio company.
